

SCUPPIE

Unique earrings made from recycled computer chips--for the woman who wants to make a statement for both the environment and fashion.

Skin protected by an all natural moisturizer made with oils carefully harvested by hand in the Amazon rainforest.

Name badge from recently attended conference on "Promoting Sustainable Economics".

Phone card that let's you "reach out and influence someone" by giving you free phone time every month to call political leaders.

Belt made from 100% Hemp fibers. Whether you inhaled or not in college, you can use it now as an environmentally friendly "fabric of choice".

Reusable cloth diaper--hard on the nose, but easy on the environment.

Stylish and comfortable organic cotton dress--dyed with all natural inks derived from bark, roots, and bugs.

Purse that was once the rubber inner tube of a '74 VW bug.

Feet. . . The best form of non-polluting transportation known to date.

The 'green machine'--a powerful tool that's heavy on the megabytes and light on energy consumption.